Ratepayers Hear Annual Reports of Council and School Board; Six Ratepayers in Attendance

Mayor Abousafy Points to Reduction in Taxation During Past Few Years; Lighting System in Schools Said to be Unsatisfactory.

The annual ratepayers meeting to hear the town and school annual reports saw a 100% increase in attendance on Friday night. Last year three ratepayers were in attendance, this year six took the trouble of battling drifting snow and sub-zero weather to hear the reports and take part in the discussion.

Mayor Abousafy was chairman of the meeting during discussion of council business. In his remarks the Mayor pointed to the gradual reduction of town taxes during the past two years. He related three instances, these being taxes in 1944 set at $88.55, $101.00 and $123.35 which in 1946 had been reduced to $76.45, $88.30 and $97.70 respectively. He stated that tax reductions on property had averaged an approximate 15% reduction.

He touched on the fact that fire expenses showed an increase. This was due to training a fire fighting brigade which would be properly trained should the town suffer a serious fire. In the $1156.14 item was also fire equipment such as hoses, etc. A fire truck had cost $1552.

Due to heavy snow removal this winter the $6,000 budgeted for public works had exceeded that figure and had risen to $7,390.

The Mayor praised the chairman of the various committees for their work and co-operative spirit.

Finance Chairman John Ramsay read the financial statement and touched on points which he thought were not quite clear in the report.

Ashes was a major subject under discussion. It was unanimously agreed that this had been a severe winter and one which did not lend itself greatly to the removal of ashes. The majority took the view that ashes could have been removed in greater volume than they have been however. Discussion arose on the feasibility of incorporating ash collection into the Department of Public Works, the town to secure its own truck and two workmen.

Debate favored this suggestion as the two men could be kept on ash removal and be constantly under the jurisdiction of the council. During the spring, summer and fall months part of their time and that of the truck could be used to advantage by the town on public works.

An improved roadway to the flat was sought and Mayor Abousafy revealed that one of the major improvements contemplated by the council was to open third street right through to the Flat. Council was also giving consideration to the purification of the local drinking water this year.

The Soldiers' Plot was discussed along with the cemeteries. Improvement to the cemeteries is to be maintained and information sought on the Soldiers' Plot.

It was agreed that council draft a resolution to be presented at the next annual meeting of the provincial municipalities' convention dealing with relief and the fact that the provincial and federal governments assume the entire costs of relief.

Council was given a vote of thanks for its efforts on the ratepayers' behalf during 1946.

Mr. D. Holly was appointed chairman of the meeting to hear the school report.

The school financial report being read Trustee McNeil gave a breakdown of his Public Works department. $853 was spent on the cement wall along side the High School. A contract has been let to paint the roofs and exterior of Central school for $1360, the heating system at Cameron school was changed costing $1016.95. In addition a bicycle rack is being built and when pipe becomes available it will be purchased to continue the rail fence on the west side of Central school down to the cement wall.

Th question of electric light and its increased cost was brought up. Mayor Abousafy spoke in support of increased light and stated that under no circumstances should it be cut down.

Principal Hoyle submitted his report. He stated the schools had 21 rooms, there were five high school teachers and the total attendance was 530 students, of which the average attendance was 520. There were 80 students in high school, 140 in intermediate and 300 in public. The average attendance stood at 94%.

The high school inspector had recently made his first trip to the local school in three years while the public school inspector made frequent inspections.

One point Principal Hoyle stressed and one which he had run up against on a few occasions was the fact that a student had to be 15 years of age before he was permitted by law to stop attending school. No grade was mentioned. So often, he stated, parents erroneously believed that once a student passed grade 8 he could stop school if he so inclined. Pressure is placed on the principal by provincial law to report such pupils should they insist in refraining from attending school while they are still under the 15-year minimum age.

Touching on the lighting question he stated the lighting system in the schools was most unsatisfactory.

Outside attractions he attributed to the restlessness of the students. Physical training was a compulsory subject. However should it be detrimental to a student's physical well being a parent need only call at his office in the high school and the matter could be discussed and a solution found to get the student credit for this subject.

The question of accommodating school age youngsters this fall was discussed. Trustee McNeil stated that the Board was giving it full consideration and would no doubt come to some decision before the fall term started. Trustee Vasek suggested that all children whose sixth birthday came on or before Dec. 31, 1947, be registered in order that the Board be in a position to determine what could best be done.

A vote of thanks to the Trustees was tendered by Mayor Abousafy on behalf of the rate-

Oliva Twins Say Thanks!

These are Coleman's youngest twins, Terry and Lorna Oliva, in their lovely new carriage bought for them by the many kind friends of the Pass towns. The other children are big sister Donna, aged four, and Lanny, aged three, now the man of the house.

In the spirit of sympathy Mr. John Lockhart kindly offered to solicit donations from his patrons as he made his usual calls with his Rawleigh products with the idea of trying to raise sufficient money to purchase a carriage for the twins. Mr. Lockhart reports that the response was very good and joins with the children and their mother in expressing thanks for the kindly reception afforded him and of the fine support from all. It will be recalled that the twins were born two months after their father was killed in the International mine last August.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who so kindly contributed to the fund raised on behalf of my babies and myself, especially to Mr. Lockhart for his kindness in soliciting the donations.

Alberta's Share In St. John Drive Set At $36,000

Southern Alberta Given $18,000 Quota; No Quota Set For Coleman; Local Canvass Has Already Started.

A campaign for $36,000 has already been launched in Alberta by St. John Ambulance Association as this province's share in the national objective of $1,000,000. The province has been divided into two sections with $18,000 objectives for each.

This is the first appeal on a national scale in the history of St. John Ambulance Association and the campaign runs from Feb. 2 to 22.

John M. Rushton, secretary of the local branch, stated that the Coleman branch would solicit funds on behalf of the national Association and that canvassers had launched a local campaign on Monday morning by canvassing the business section.

Circular letters had also gone out to the mine management, the miner's union, Sentinel Power Plant management and employees and other local bodies in support of donations.

Individuals or organizations wishing to donate to the campaign can mail their cheques to either Ernest Hill, president, or John M. Rushton, secretary, of Coleman branch, St. John Ambulance Association.

BROTHERS ESCAPED MINE DISASTER

Word has been received by friends here from Mrs. Alex. Irvine, of Vancouver and formerly of Coleman, that her two brothers had escaped the mine disaster at West Calder a few weeks ago.

The two men had been on morning shift and had come off work when the explosion occurred on the afternoon shift taking many lives.

Parents Seek Recreational Area For Children

Council to Endeavor to Secure Vacant Lots on Flat for Youngsters.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Tuesday evening. Present Mayor Abousafy, Councilors Cox, Dutil, Jenkins, Lowe, Ramsay and Wilson.

Council was confronted with quite a large delegation when youngsters, reported a number about 50, plus three ladies and a gentleman were present to discuss recreational areas. At the present time youngsters on Fifth and Sixth streets are congregating in front of the Wm. Fraser residence on Fifth street where they play hockey with tin cans or any article suitable for substituting as a puck. The noise made by the children disturbs Mrs. Fraser who has been sickly for some time.

Fully aware of the disturbance created to Mrs. Fraser the three ladies present asked that some recreational area be set up for the children. Winter was on the wane and Spring would find the youngsters congregating in the same spot for softball. They stated that it was an error for council to have shut-down the open air skating rink. They further claimed that when ice is available for skating at the arena the hour is much too late for them and they rightfully should be home in bed.

Council admitted that it had made a mistake in closing down the open air arena and that the situation could be righted come next winter. The school district has several vacant lots on the flat which would be ideal for a recreational area and the school board would be contacted to see if it would co-operate and set up these lots for recreation this spring.

The ash question was given the usual airing. It was hoped the weather would start to moderate (Continued on Page 5)

Vacancies to Civic Government Filled By Acclamation; Dutil, Jenkins and Evans Re-Elected

Jim Wilkie and Onesimo Bomben Enter Civic Government For First Time; Wm. White Re-Elected to Municipal Hospital Board.

It was "all quiet on the civic front" Monday noon when only sufficient nominations were received for the town council, school board and one seat allotted to Coleman on the Municipal Hospital Board to give all candidates election by acclamation.

Wilfrid Dutil and George Jenkins, whose terms on the council expired this year, were re-elected. George Evans, chairman of the school board for the past six years, was sent back to the school board for his fourth consecutive term. Two new faces will be seen at the Board table this term, Jim Wilkie, young business man, and Onesimo Bomben, miner, becoming Trustees for the first time.

William J. White, whose term on the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital Board expired this year, was sent back for another two years' term.

There were no contentious issues in either the council or school this year and the harmony that has prevailed between the union and business section during the past several years was in greater evidence this year when the union refraining from seeking all three vacancies on the school board which allowed the businessmen's candidate, Jim Wilkie, to get into office by acclamation. It is many years since a businessman sat at the Board table in the role of Trustee.

Following are the names of the candidates with their respective supporters:

For Council: Wilfrid Dutil; supporters G. Lees, C. E. Coover.
 For Council: G. Jenkins; supporters A. Belovich, G. Evans, W. White, J. Joyce, J. McNeil, J. Ramsay.
 For School Board: George Evans; supporters A. Belovich, W. White, J. Joyce, J. Ramsay.
 For School Board: James Wilkie; supporters N. E. Abousafy, Adam Wilson.
 For School Board: Onesimo Bomben; supporters A. Belovich, G. Evans, W. White, J. Joyce, J. McNeil, J. Ramsay.
 For Municipal Hospital: Wm. J. White; supporters A. Belovich, G. Evans, J. Joyce, J. McNeil, J. Ramsay.

FRANK BARRINGHAM SENDS A CALENDAR

Tommy Lloyd, of the Rialto Pool Room, is showing with pride these days the small "Cosy Corner Coffee Bar" calendar received from Frank Barringham, of Vancouver. Frank, in the old days, was one of the community's leader sports promoters and in addition liked nothing better than a good game of billiards in the Rialto Pool room with men such as Jack Hopkins, George Evans, Bill Cousins, Adam Walker and several others.

Mrs. Bertha Purnell Died Suddenly At Bellevue

Funeral Held Today at Ponoka; No Theatre Performances This Evening In Pass Towns.

Mrs. Bertha Purnell, 54, wife of Mr. Jack Purnell, of Bellevue and proprietor of Purnell's Pass Theatres, died suddenly on Saturday afternoon while engaged in the Bellevue theatre box-office taking tickets at the matinee. While in the box-office she complained of not feeling well, fainted shortly after and failed to regain consciousness.

It was only last November that she arrived in Bellevue with her husband and family from Ponoka to take over ownership and management of the Cole's Theatre chain. Due to her untimely passing Coleman theatre patrons had not had the opportunity of making her acquaintance.

The funeral was held in Ponoka this afternoon and all Pass theatres will be closed this evening.

Surviving in the Pass are her husband, two sons, Leonard and Don, a daughter, Mrs. Ed. Somshor, and grandchildren. Two other sons, Gordon, of Grande Prairie and Harold, of Ponoka, also survive.

Grands Advance To Second Round In Play-Offs

Grands came through as expected against the strong Okotoks club on Saturday and Wednesday in a home and home game series, total goals to count.

Last night at Okotoks they ran up a most convincing win over Oilers by a 10-4 score, and having won the first game at the arena last Saturday 3-1 they advanced into the second round of the provincial intermediate play-offs.

A sell-out crowd at Okotoks saw the teams battle on even terms during the first two periods, the score being 3-3. Grands unloaded a scorching attack in the third period to score four goals in as many minutes to take a commanding lead. Before the period had ended they had fired seven goals behind Badyk while Okotoks could beat Pow only once.

Kryczka, Joyce and Field got two each, while Bigun, Mozell, Roughhead and Kovacic got one each.

GRANDS 3 OKOTOKS 1

Playing before the largest crowd of the season Grands jumped into a 3-1 lead in the first of a home and home total goals to count series with Okotoks Oilers on Saturday night. The second game was scheduled for Okotoks last night. The game was in the first round of the provincial intermediate play-offs.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

BRIEFLY TOLD

Hon. Frances Mary Drummond, 99, for 30 years maid of honor to Queen Victoria, died recently in London.

One thousand tons of Swedish telegraph poles have arrived in Port Talbot, Wales, the first since 1939.

Russia intends to build ships of a size to compete with those employed in the world's luxury liner trade, Moscow radio said.

The Duke of Gloucester, brother of the King, has returned to Britain after serving two years as governor-general of Australia.

Ernest Swedborg resigned as treasurer of a Sunday school at Galesburg, Ill., after maintaining a perfect attendance record for 38 years.

It was announced officially that more than 1,000,000 Poles had returned to their homeland in 1946 and that 1,655,627 Germans had been expelled.

Sports pavilions are to be built on the playing fields of Suffolk, England, to commemorate the men of the Suffolk Regiment who died in the Second World War.

Clyro Court, at Clyro, Radnorshire, Wales, once home of the Baskerville family, principal landowners, has been taken over for conversion into a technical school.

At Llandrindod Wells, Wales, Charles Jones, 82, who had a wooden bicycle when he was six years old and still rides a bike, claims to have been a cyclist longer than anyone in the world.

ALSIRE CLOVER

Production of alsike clover seed in Canada in 1946 was 7,712,000 pounds, 2,650,000 less than in 1945, and was not enough to meet both domestic and export demands. Canada is the chief exporting country of alsike clover seed this season, when world requirements exceed supply by a considerable margin. The potential export demand for this seed would appear to justify increased production in 1947.

"SALAM" ORANGE PEKOE

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

IS SUMMER A FRAUD?

By J. W. GARRETT

LAUREN curled up in the corner of the big sofa with the high back and hoped no one would find her. She had come over to the club to play ping-pong, and try to ease the pain in her heart. Of course, she hadn't really expected Cary Williams to make a rush for her front-door the minute he got home, but she had thought he would call her on the telephone as ever. But not looking for her!

"Where's Lauren? Anyone seen her?" The girls had come over and seated themselves on the other side of the sofa. Lauren held herself rigidly. They mustn't find her. Her face might be tear-stained. She wasn't sure that she had not been crying.

"Cary Williams is home," one of the girls said. "Guess she must be with him."

"Could be," the other replied, "but I saw her only a few minutes ago playing ping-pong."

"Oh," the first girl said, "But I know Cary's looking for her. He was in the lobby asking for her."

Lauren felt her throat tighten and her ears got warm, but her heart began to sing. She thought: "Why don't they go? I can't be caught like this. Like a fish out of water! My nose must be red!"

After what seemed interminable hours, the girls on the other side of the sofa moved away. Lauren sighed. Now, for a dash to the powder-room, and a quick repair job on her face. This was one time her make-up had to be smooth—oh, definitely!

Lauren didn't hurry too much. No point in having Cary see her for the first time in months looking like the scarred battlefields he had just left. She combed her hair smoothly, making sure Cary's favorite curl was still true. Then she powdered her nose and made a neat outline of her mouth.

with lipstick. "Smile!" she said gaily. "Life is about to begin again."

Back in the lounge Lauren cast a quick glance around it. No Cary. She shivered slightly. Were the girls right? Had Cary really come looking for her? Why had he come to the Club? Why not at her home? Then suddenly she saw him. Gay and handsome as ever. But not looking for her!

The quick surge of pride that she had felt on seeing him died suddenly. Cary was standing in the middle of a large group of people and a beautiful girl with snapping black eyes had a possessive hand on his arm. Lauren stood frozen to the spot. No one saw her. No one was even the slightest bit interested in her. She turned toward the door and slipped out of it.

Lauren walked all the way home. It was ten long blocks, but it could have been ten miles and that would have been too short. "To think that I ever dreamed... hoped... I was glancing at the profusion of summer flowers along the way and they looked like just so many blobs of color. Summer was a fraud! Summer was only in the heart, and Lauren's heart was tightly encased in ice! She couldn't even feel it beat."

No one was at home. Lauren sat down on the porch swing and listened gloomily to its squeak. Something about the softness of the air and the comfort of the swing made her feel drowsy. She had walked a long way. And there was nothing to stay awake for... nothing to live for.

"Lauren!" It was an excited masculine voice that shrieked her name, and she came awake all at once. "Where have you been?" Cary demanded. "Or is this the well-known around-I'm-getting? First I come here. Your mother is so sorry, but you are at the club! Then I go there and everyone tells me the same thing. 'Lauren was here. We saw her a minute ago. Please explain!' Cary was mockingly angry, but his eyes were serious. "Well?"

"Oh, Cary, I... I was there. I saw you, but you were with a girl. You got home last night. Why didn't you call me?"

"I got home two hours ago, you goof; and I had to stop at the house." His flushed face told Lauren he hadn't hurried any longer than a decent greeting of parents allowed.

"As for the girl," Cary went on, "I don't know who she was. Someone over there introduced us. But I didn't even remember her name. Guess I wasn't even listening."

Lauren's dimple came out and then suddenly disappeared. She had remembered something else. How did she look? Not very tempting to be sure after having fallen asleep in the swing. Pansy appeared in her eyes, and Cary said quickly, "What is it now, Lauren? Are you ill?"

Lauren smiled. "No. Only I'd always planned on just how I would look for you the day you came home. And look at me!" she wailed.

Cary let out a host of laughter. "Is that all he said musically?"

"Well, I'll rumple your hair up a little more and then you'll look just gorgeous to me!" He came over to the swing and sat down beside her.

"Cary! Isn't it wonderful?" Lauren said softly.

"What?" moving a little closer.

"Summer! It's everywhere. Haven't you noticed?"

"I'll notice it all right," Cary said, "after I've feasted my eyes on you for awhile. Now it's your turn to move over. Girl, come a little closer."

WELCOME NEWS FOR GARDENERS OF FUTURE

Early gardening note: the arbutus leaves of winter may be seen in the garden. Dr. W. H. Lachman of Massachusetts State College told the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association convention at Toronto.

Oil sprays have been developed which will kill the weeds and leave the vegetables undamaged, he said. Care must be taken in using them, but with proper instruction and application the "oil weedeaters" are successful.

WELL PROTECTED AREA

The North Pacific ocean isn't menaced by icebergs since the narrow Bering Strait serves as a bottleneck to keep them from drifting south as they do in the Atlantic.

FOREST OUTLOOK FOR B.C. IS GOOD

VANCOUVER—The world demand for forest products from British Columbia should continue to be strong for some time—as in every other industry in Canada which must look to the export market to dispose of its production, E. P. Taylor, president of British Columbia Forest Products Limited, said here.

However, Mr. Taylor warned shareholders attending the first annual meeting of the company that future company operations must be planned to compete successfully in the world market when the present demand slackens. He forecasts strong competition from Russia, Finland and the Danubian countries.

Mongrel Dog Saves His Master's Life

TERRACE, B.C.—"Mike," a dog of uncertain pedigree, was a hero to his master, G. G. Mueller, who would likely have frozen or starved to death if it had not been for his mongrel companion.

Mueller was pinned down by the boughs of a falling tree while working in the woods, and "Mike" set to work to free him. He clawed at the snow until he had made a hole large enough for his master to crawl out.

SELECTED RECIPES

"PEACHY" CHOCOLATE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE (1 CR)

- 1 cup sifted Swans Down cake flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 6 tablespoons milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 square Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup sugar (4)
- 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 1/2 cup canned sliced peaches, well drained

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt, and sugar and sift together three times. Cream shortening. Add dry ingredients, egg, milk, and vanilla and stir until all flour is dampened. Add chocolate and blend; then beat vigorously 1 minute.

Melt 3 tablespoons butter in 8x8x2-inch pan over low flame; add sugar and orange rind and cook and stir until thoroughly mixed. On this arrange peach slices. Turn batter out on contents of pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Loosen cake from sides of pan with knife or spatula. Turn upside down on dish with peaches on top. Serve warm, plain or with Whipped Cream Fruit Sauce, using cake and peach juice.

Note: For best results, have all ingredients at room temperature before mixing.

(*) You may substitute 1/2 cup corn syrup or honey for sugar, if topping. Add to melted butter with orange rind and mix well.

Whipped Cream Fruit Sauce

- 1 cup pure cream, whipped
 - 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin
 - 1/2 cup light cream
 - Dash of salt
- Mix juice with gelatin in small bowl. Heat and stir over boiling water until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from boiling water, add cream and salt, and mix. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip 5 to 7 minutes, or until mixture begins to set around edges. Remove from ice water; stir gently until smooth. Add sugar, if needed. Serve. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

SOMETHING REALLY NEW

A Cairo house-hunter who thought he had experienced every device known to landlords for muleting would-be tenants was taken aback when a landlady offered him an apartment on condition that he paid "dog money."

REPORT PROGRESS ON NEW POULTRY BREEDS

Further progress is reported on the work of the Poultry Division, Experimental Farms Service, in the creation of new breeds of poultry to meet specific economic requirements. Chief of the breeds in the process of being evolved is what has been called the Large White, a breed possessing: (a) white feathers for ease in breeding to a uniform or standard feather colour requirement under commercial conditions; (b) white flesh so that the bird may attain "Milk-fed" grading in so far as skin colour is concerned; (c) fast feathering for ease in plucking and to speed up the moult; and (d) white eggs for uniformity in marketing.

With regard to the attainment of this desirable breed, the latest annual report of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture states that the Large White, which has been in the process of synthesis for the past eight years, now has reached the stage in its development at which more attention can be given to body type and shell colour. So far the work has been mainly limited to the task of establishing purity for skin and feather colour.

The other two breeds of chickens now being developed at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the Broad Breasted White and the Small White have progressed still further toward the ideal envisaged for them. The Broad Breasted White is to develop largely into a meat type bird, possessing, however, good egg laying characteristics. The Small White will combine high egg production, standard egg size, and good body type about a pound less in weight than that of the Leghorn breed.

MORE ELECTRICAL POWER STATIONS FOR BRITAIN

A four-year plan to provide Britain with at least 20 new electrical generating stations was outlined in a recent statement by the Central Electricity Board. The scheme also provides for improvements and extensions of existing stations—the expenditure is estimated at over $800,000,000. Plants at present producing power for the national grid provide about 9,000,000 kilowatts, and it is anticipated these new developments will add another 6,000,000 kilowatts.

A 1792 model of Dr. Guillotine's stylish, high speed and efficient decapitating machine is on sale in Paris for 100,000 francs ($840).

It was discovered in the courtyard of an ancient building on the Rue Ste. Anne, and the concierge explained that it was used in 1792 at Nantes to discourage a rebellion of royalists.

In spite of its age, the guillotine has a nice shiny weighted blade, able to sever the thickest, toughest neck, and children sharpen their pencils on it until the concierge shows them away.

The owner, M. Faure, keeps a toy store on the boulevard and in his absence his secretary refused to divulge any information about how the toy dealer acquired the macabre relic.

Could Apply To Canada As Well

The "good life" of the big cities has obvious attractions, but there is evidence too that some city-dwellers would exchange their way of life for country living if they could be assured of jobs and homes. Projects aimed directly at rural rehabilitation, like afforestation, hydro-electric schemes, and the revival of local industries, will be salutary, but probably equally useful will be, paradoxically enough, the building of new, small towns which will serve the needs of country districts and satisfy social and cultural longings without at the same time becoming the insidious attraction of the big cities—Glasgow Herald.

School Board Probes Strapping Of Boy

TYNDALL, Man—Charges that a 12-year-old boy received 101 lashes with a strap were heard by the school board and teaching staff here.

It was claimed a teacher, Anne Christensen, whipped the strap. She told the meeting 60 or 70 lashes "would be nearer the number."

Peter Prychum, assistant principal of the school, said no court action would be taken as the School Act places no limit on use of the strap providing no physical injury results. The board passed a resolution that any misbehavior requiring more than two lashes on each hand be referred to the principal or assistant principal.

Tyndall is about 20 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Coal Commission Report

The Royal Commission on Coal has submitted its report on the industry which it has had under study from coast to coast during the past two years. Those who had expected radical suggestions for the improvement and stability of the coal industry have been disappointed.

The report favors the retention of subventions to enable western and eastern coal areas to compete in the central industrial areas of Canada in competition with U. S. coal.

In assessing the Report the Calgary Herald sums up the whole subject nicely when it states:

"If a body such as the Carroll Commission makes radical recommendations regarding one problem, it can have little hope of seeing those recommendations implemented for they will almost inevitably run afoul of broad, long-established government policies. On the other hand, if it makes its recommendations with due regard to existing government policies—as the Carroll Commission has done—it can scarcely recommend anything that will bring a very radical change in existing conditions."

Angus J. Morrison is being lauded in the west for his minority report which suggests that mining machinery and supplies be given special preference by the Customs Department. He asks that a permanent coal board be set up and define its duties.

He recommends better social and working conditions for miners which all will concur.

In respect to social conditions the Coleman mine operators and miners' union have long worked together for better housing conditions for the miners. To both parties the day of the "miner's shanty" is gone. Modern and comfortable homes in which each miner and his family can rightfully take pride is the aim of mining and union leaders. Even in the face of the critical housing shortage at present being experienced here Ottawa officials have been told time and again that it is real homes that are wanted here and not the shacks that have been erected in the cities to help alleviate housing shortages.

Municipal Hospital

On Saturday, March 1, rate-payers in the Crows Nest Pass will have the opportunity of contributing towards one of the most progressive steps in the history of the Crows Nest Pass, sanctioning the money with which to construct and equip a modern 60 bed municipal hospital.

March 1 has been set as the voting day on the money by-law. If a two thirds majority says "yes" to the question "Are you in favor of the by-law?" then the hospital board will immediately set machinery in motion which will see the start of construction just as soon as Spring weather permits.

$185,000 has already been sanctioned. Cost of labor and material have risen to boost the total cost to $275,000 or $90,000 more than the amount sanctioned Dec 16 44.

A modern hospital is positively essential in this area. Too long have the residents of this area been serviced with nothing more than emergency units. The doctors have been working under difficult, due to the fact they fail to have modern equipment in their hospitals. The seriously ill have to be sent to the city for proper hospitalization which in turn is accompanied by heavy expense.

Of interest to the miners is the fact that provision is made for a fracture room. Fractures are common in a heavy industrial area such as this and every effort is being made with modern equipment to cut down the percentage of men crippled through accident.

To the ladies there is their own special wards and also the maternity ward. The latter will have every facility for mother, doctor and nurse.

To the parents, there will be interest in the fact that young boys and girls will have separate children's wards. This is a feature that has never been attained in any other so-called Pass hospital.

There are numerous innovations for the care and comfort of the patient. All voters should thoroughly make themselves familiar with the proposed hospital before getting up and opposing it. Let's advance! We loaned thousands of dollars during the war to kill, let's loan other thousands of dollars to help cure.

Civic Centre

Can any Coleman citizen, with any love in their heart for the old home town, visualize this community without a skating rink? The very thought of such a calamity causes all progressive-minded citizens to shudder at the thought.

Such can be the case within a very few months if the Civic Centre project is not given the support it deserves by all community spirited citizens. The arena is definitely condemned as being unsafe.

To match steps with Coleman's progress, community leaders are promoting the idea of constructing a Civic Centre which would provide recreational facilities for old and young.

Its cost will be heavy, possibly $50,000 or more, but regardless of the amount it will be an investment in the future of our youth and the future of the town.

It is only through recreational facilities that the name of one's town can be spread across the sports' pages and no one can deny the fact that Coleman with its arena and its tennis courts has not had more than its share of sports' headlines giving publicity to the teams and players involved and the community.

Now that it is about to lose its arena which has served the citizens well over the past 26 years sober thought must be given the Civic Centre project in order that the town might not lose its recreational facilities enjoyed over a period of years but have a chance to increase those facilities in order that more citizens can be allowed to take advantage of them.

It appears that the IODE in Alberta are bringing in persons from outside the province to aid it in an inspection of provincial child welfare institutions. Joe DeLuca Purchases Dry Goods Store

Acquires Stock of Mayerchuk's General Dry Goods Store; Opened For Business Last Saturday.

Having acquired the stock of the Mayerchuk Dry Goods Store, Mr. DeLuca opened for business February 1 in the premises of the Italian Block on main street. A local young man, this is his first venture into business for himself.

Born at Michel, he came at an early age with his parents to Coleman and attended the local schools. He has worked at Sentinel Motors and Coleman Cash Grocery. In 1942 he enlisted in the Canadian navy as a stoker and became a Stoker first class. He received his discharge in December 1945 and gained employment at International mine.

Having youth on his side and believing in the future of Coleman he has invested his savings in his own business and will strive to make it a success.

His fiancée, Miss Louise Biegun, of east Coleman, who was born and educated in Coleman, is in charge of the store at the present time. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Biegun, of Coleman. The young couple plan on being married Feb. 15.

The name of the store has been changed to "The Fashion Shop" and will cater to men's, ladies and children's wear.

Film Library Set Up In Pass Towns

Depot In RCMP Barracks; Projector Here On Extended Loan; Each Town Subscribes To Its Financial Support.

A film library has been set up by the National Film Board in the RCMP barracks, Blairmore, and towards which all Pass towns will contribute to its financial support. Mr. Clayton Bricker, Field representative for southern Alberta, has been endeavoring to set up this library in the Pass area for the past three years and only last week succeeded in securing the support of organizations to finance the library. As a result eighteen films are now available for screening to any Pass school or organization.

Three Lions clubs in the Pass are sponsoring the library financially, having given assurance that they will purchase the necessary $200 of new film annually. Each service club will appoint its own film committee which will supervise screenings in the respective towns. Each club will also be responsible for training men to operate the projectors and attend every screening of film in their respective towns. Any organization desiring to use film will pay a $1 fee for the evening regardless of how much film they use.

There are now seven libraries in the province and during the course of a year all film in each library will have been rotated so that each library will have at one time or another had the opportunity of all available film in provincial libraries. Film is exchanged every two months and it is hoped that in this area there will be fifteen screenings each month.

A projector has been placed in the Pass on extended loan. It can be used at any time provided there is a competent operator available. Organizations wishing to book films should contact their service club's film committee.

Any organization wishing to bring in special film on a subject of special interest to it can do so and secure the loan of the library's projector along with the service club's official operator.

Films at present in the Pass library include: After Work; Let's All Sing; Partners In Production; Highland Doctor; Freedom And Famine; Ukrainian Christmas; When Do We Eat; Youth In Crisis; John Bull's Own Island; Canadian Screen Magazine; Singing Pipes; Story of Oil; Building A House; A Place to Live; River of Canada; Fur Country.

Relatives here have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Evelyn Henriet, of Vancouver and formerly of Coleman, which takes place on Feb. 15 at 7 p.m. at St. Mary the Virgin church, corner of 50th Ave. and Prince Albert Street. The groom is Mr. Walter Rosenbaum.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Henriet, of Vancouver and formerly of Coleman. Miss Henriet attended the local schools here prior to leaving with her parents during the war years for the west coast and is well known among the local younger set.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My wife, Grace McCulloch Evans, having left my bed and board I shall no longer be responsible for any debts incurred by her on and after this date, Feb. 1, 1947.

Business and Professional

LOANS

Up to $3,000

A NEW Dominion Government Act provides that war veterans, resident in Canada and entitled to War Service Grants, may borrow up to $3,000, on long terms, at reasonable interest rates, for business and professional purposes, as follows:

The purchase of a business or of an interest in a business.

The purchase or repair of instruments, tools, machinery or other equipment to be used in a profession, trade or business.

The construction, repair or alteration of a building used or to be used in carrying on a profession, trade or business.

This Bank is authorized to make these Veterans' Loans, and our Managers will be glad to give helpful advice and assistance to all entitled to such loans.

Veterans may freely consult our Managers—many of them veterans themselves—as to how they can conveniently borrow for business and professional purposes.

Farmers WILL BENEFIT

The Alberta Motor Association believes that farmers are vitally interested in the improvement of our Roads and Highways. Good roads enable farmers to market their products in the easiest and most economical manner, especially in the case of perishable products.

Improved highways are vital to the trucker if he is to deliver your products to market economically, regularly and in the best condition possible. It costs from one to eight cents a mile more to travel on mud roads than on gravel or paved highways.

Improved highways also enable the farmer to do his shopping and other business much more economically and pleasantly. They are a great boon to the farmer's wife and family.

The recently announced $9,500,000 program of the Alberta Government for 1947, if carried out and repeated over a period of years, should have a marked influence in improving the motor transportation in all parts of the Province and be of particular benefit to all rural citizens, especially farmers.

EDMONTON: CALGARY: LETHBRIDGE:

Induction and Institution of St. Alban's Rector

Wednesday, January 29th, 1947, 8:00 p.m.

The Bishop of Calgary, the Rt. Rev. H. R. Ragg, visited Coleman on Wednesday last in order to conduct the ceremony of the Induction and Institution of the Rev. L. S. Mann, A.K.C., as the new rector of the parish of Coleman-Blainmore. (Mr. Mann succeeds the Rev. W. Grainger who, as Coleman residents will know, has been forced to resign the living for health reasons.)

The bitter unkindness of the weather did not prevent an excellent representative gathering in the church. Blainmore as well as Coleman attending well. The Anglican bishop is a man of attractive personality, informal and of a very simple but very magnetic faith; coupled with which, an induction is always an event in any English church, and it was obvious that supporting members did not intend that hard weather should interfere with their faithful attendance at the service. Supporting the Bishop (and acting as his Chaplain for the occasion) was the Rev. R. N. R. Holmes, (the Rural Dean) who came up from Macleod with one of his churchwardens for the occasion. The Rector of Pincher Creek and the principal of S. Cyprian's school, Brekei, both wished to be present but were hindered by the weather.

The service followed the usual order as set forth in the Prayer Book. Mr. F. Graham and Mr. H. M. Bennett, the respective Wardens of Coleman and Blainmore, representing the laity of the two parts of the parish. Enthusiastic singing and a very intense application by the congregation to the various stages of the Service (and particularly to the Six Obligations, five entered upon by the newly appointed Rector, and one by the assembled people), culminated in a short and simple but equally sincere address by the Bishop. Among the points of his talk were his emphasis upon the duo-lateral aspect of the Service, in which not only is the priest dedicated to the spiritual service of his people but they also are committed to responsibility no less far reaching. Both priest and people would do well continually to remind themselves of this by more than occasional reference to the Form of Service as printed in their respective prayer-books. A further point was the Bishop's wise comparison between the twin attributes of faithfulness and popularity. These, he told his attentive listeners, do sometimes go hand in hand, but only very rarely. Normally where the Parish Priest was concerned they certainly did not. They travelled, on the contrary, divergent and very opposite roads, and it was perhaps a far better thing that a Rector should have said of him that he was faithful rather than that he was merely popular. An ideal was the combination of the two, but this was seldom achieved, faithfulness normally having to suffer and give ground for the sake of popularity. Nor would this seem remarkable to any who wished to give the matter serious thought. The service closed with the Bishop's Benediction, after which the members of the congregations and the clergy (including Dr. Ragg) adjourned to the Parish Hall where the Women's Guild had prepared a most varied and generous supper. For those who, with the Bishop, had already dined sumptuously at Mrs. Graham's table (the wife of the Coleman-Pincher Warden) this might well have proved an ordeal, but the distinctness of the sandwiches and the deliciousness of the cakes did not permit of such a situation arising. The Bishop, during the supper, bid an informal and witty welcome to the new Rector, to be followed by the Rural Dean, Mr. Holmes, who added his Deanery's welcome. To these short and friendly speeches Mr. Mann made his suitable reply, asking for the prayerful co-operation of his people in all that he required to be done in the parish. He apologized for the quite unavoidable absence of Mrs. Mann from this part of the proceedings (although she had attended the actual service in the church). She was primarily the mother of a still quite young daughter whose bath and bedtime was at such an hour her only concern, and he (the rector) trusted that the parishioners would respect this always.

The happy little social function closed down shortly before ten-thirty, leaving a tired Bishop to get what sleep he might before departing for Calgary on the early morning train, and an almost as tired new rector to return to his wife and home, say his prayers, and climb thankfully into his bed.

Biographical Notes

The Rev. L. S. Mann, Associate of King's College, University of London, was ordained to the Priesthood in 1933. He served in S. Africa from 1935 until 1938, when he joined the staff at S. Martin's in the Field (the famous broadcast church, leaving his work to take his commission in the RAF shortly before the outbreak of war. Serving on RAF stations in England until after the Battle of Britain, he was posted to the Rhodesian Air Training Group towards the end of 1941, and served there until his medical discharge at the end of 1942, since when he has been rector of Empangeni (with Felixton, Ntambanana, Kwambonambi, Mpossa, Mtubatuba and Hluhluwe) in the Diocese of Zululand, S. Africa. He also during this period acted as Temporary Chaplain to several SAAF squadrons (coastal command) based in his parish.

Why Coleman Needs A Civic Centre

One of the greatest problems of today is the directing of youthful energy and enthusiasm in proper channels. Very few children or adolescents are inherently bad, any wrong doing is the result of idleness and misdirected energies. We in Coleman are fortunate in having very few delinquents, but this may be only a temporary situation that may deteriorate in the very near future. Why not make an insurance investment in the future and guarantee our young people will have properly directed activities in the years to come? On way of accomplishing this very happy condition is by boosting and backing a civic centre. We very glibly state that Canada's real wealth is her people, our greatest asset is our younger generation. Let's stop uttering idle phrases and show that we appreciate our youth. Direct action, in the establishment of a civic centre is one way of showing our sincerity.

It can be done! Various other centres in Alberta have established such institutions, they are no wealthier than Coleman. The returns in a happier and more contented populace would warrant the necessary expenditure of time and money.

In the past the home was the centre of social activities. Today, parents and children seek their recreation in different directions. The result is a growing apart of parent and child, misunderstanding creeps in and trouble lies ahead. It is possible under a civic centre scheme to provide recreation for the whole family at one unit.

Dad curls, the youngsters skate or use the gymnasium while mother uses the library or club room. If we understand our youth a lot of our family troubles will disappear. Can you imagine Coleman without a rink. At present it is the centre for most of our athletic and recreational activities, but a rink isn't enough. We can't all skate. What provision are we making for nonskaters? They deserve consideration and with a little effort we can make provisions for their needs. When the time comes let's give hearty support to Coleman's new venture.

guest was presented with many beautiful and useful presents, for which she ably expressed her thanks.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all those who attended my miscellaneous shower and brought presents. I especially wish to thank the hostesses for their efforts in my behalf.

Explanation To Subscribers

Late in December last The Journal received its initial circulation audit from the Audit Bureau of Circulation, Chicago, Ill., which credits The Journal with a paid up average weekly circulation from July 1 to Sept. 30, 1946, of 568 copies.

Reason for the audit was two fold. First, The Journal has never made a practice of inflating its circulation figures to either the national advertiser nor the local advertiser and the 568 circulation will be received by both the advertisers without the slightest doubt as to its accuracy.

Secondly, the price of newspaper has risen so steeply that The Journal has been forced to call a halt to subscriptions more than three months in arrears. In June, 1942, monthly cost of newspaper the The Journal was $13.44. Today the same amount costs $21.25.

The Audit Bureau of Circulation discards all subscriptions three months in arrears which means that The Journal gets no credit for them on its circulation figure. As a direct result of this rule The Journal is now discontinuing subscriptions 3 months in arrears and in order to inform subscribers as to when their subscription expires the expiry date is placed along the name slip on local papers and on the wrapper on those papers sent out of town. A glance reveals how your subscription stands.

Since adopting the "three months and out" practice the large majority of these arrears have been paid up in full and the subscription paid a year in advance. This has shot the figure over the 600 mark which becomes official when the next audit is made by the Bureau.

J. J. McIntyre Comments On Carroll Report

(Lethbridge Herald)

One of the greatest values of the investigations conducted by the Carroll coal commission during the past two years and the report it released last Friday was the presentation of many facts on Canada's coal industry to the public. The Herald was told today by J. J. McIntyre, of Coleman, prominent coal mining official in the Crow's Nest Pass.

"It is always to the good to have the public better informed and the commission has done much in presenting a lot of facts to the public," explained Mr. McIntyre.

He added that western colliery operators would soon draft a statement at a meeting in Calgary to release as the official comment of their association on the lengthy report of the Royal commission.

Absenteeism has declined substantially in the Crow's Nest Pass coal field since the five-day work week was adopted for miners last fall but production under the new plan is below that registered when collieries operated six days a week, stated Mr. McIntyre. Collieries are working steady and have so many orders that indications are not all orders will be filled during the current coal year.

"SISTER KENNY" PLAYS PALACE SAT. AND MON.

The dramatic saga of a dauntless woman's success against personal tragedy and orthodox medical opposition is vividly presented in RKO Radio's biographical film, "Sister Kenny." Co-starring Rosalind Russell as the famed Australian nurse whose method for treating the effects of infantile paralysis brought new hope to stricken victims, and Alexander Knox, as Dr. McDonnell, her friend and advisor, the picture is an authentic record of one of the outstanding figures of contemporary life.

Made with the full cooperation of Elizabeth Kenny, and featuring Dean Jagger as the fiancé she never married, "Sister Kenny" traces the protagonist's activities from the time she was a young nurse in the Australian bush up to the moment of victory when her Institute in Minneapolis was opened.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry IN MY HOME?"

YES, MADAME, it is a fact that practically everything you use, wear or consume is affected for the better by chemistry.

"Freon" puts the freeze into your electric refrigerator; chemical treatments mean better fabrics; chemical fertilizers help grow your food. Nylon hose and "Cellophane" both start in the chemist's laboratory.

The chemical industry is never satisfied. It forever seeks new ways to serve you in this chemical world of today.

For instance...

NYLON BRISTLED HAIR BRUSHES

Hair brushes were once bristled chiefly with hog bristles. When war rendered these unsuitable, chemistry came to the rescue with nylon bristles which quickly proved their ability to outperform and outlast hog bristles. Nylon bristles are one of the products of Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

MEECH, MITCHELL and MEECH
ARCHITECTS & ENGINEERS - LETHBRIDGE

When the project was first started back in August of 1944 it was estimated that the building could be constructed and equipped for $185,000. Today it will require $203,000 to construct the building alone with another $70,000 to properly equip it.

The hospital will be modern in practically all respects. It will have 60 beds, men's and ladies' wards, children's wards, maternity and isolation wards, fracture room, etc. etc.

Shoquist Construction Company, Western Limited, has been tentatively awarded the construction contract.

The Board will, in the immediate future once red tape has been brushed aside, go to the district ratepayers and seek their permission to issue an additional $90,000 which with the $185,000 already authorized in the Dec. 16, 1944, vote will be sufficient to construct and equip the hospital.

This institution is one which has been sadly lacking in the Pass towns for far too many years. Hospitalization of the sick in city hospitals have in the majority of cases incurred a financial burden which is too heavy for the average wage-earner to bear. A Pass hospital will go far towards relieving such conditions.

League matches of Sunday, Jan. 26.

Legionnaires kept their winning streak intact by virtue of a close 1-0 victory over Patts. Peter Kovack scored the only goal of the contest.

Lions defeated Elks 2-1 to keep close to the league leaders.

Jack Kerr and Frank Oliva scored for the winners while Lewis Krzoz assisted by George Jenkins scored for the losers.

To date goal tending has been an outstanding feature of the local league and the evenly matched teams have provided an excellent brand of combination hockey.

Canada's Navy

DURING THE WAR the Royal Canadian Navy rose to a high place among the naval forces of the Allied nations, and served with distinction in many parts of the world. As was the case in all the armed services, naval personnel was recruited from every part of the Dominion, but it was frequently noted that a large percentage of those who served in the Navy came from the Prairie Provinces, and although they are situated so far from the sea, it is probable that many from the Prairies will be included in the complement of 10,000 officers and ratings who will make up the peacetime strength of Canada's Navy. A recent report issued from Naval Service headquarters at Ottawa, showed that 8,600 officers and ratings have already been taken on, and that applications for entry or re-entry are averaging more than 2,000 a month, of which about 200 are being accepted.

We Now Have A Modern Fleet

The report from Naval headquarters also drew attention to the fact that we now have a modern fleet which includes an aircraft carrier, two cruisers, destroyers, frigates and Algonquin escort vessels. A second aircraft carrier will be added to the Navy at the end of 1947. Canada's first aircraft carrier is the 18,000-ton Warrior, which was commissioned at Belfast, Ireland, over a year ago. The Warrior recently completed a six weeks training cruise from Halifax to her winter base at Esquimaut, B.C., and this was but one of many training cruises which have been taken by vessels of the Royal Canadian Navy since the end of the war. These cruises not only provide training for their crews, but in some cases serve also to cement goodwill between Canada and the neighboring countries which these ships visit in the course of their voyages.

Conversion To Needs Of Peace

Reference is also made by the Naval headquarters report to the steady redevelopment of various departments of the Navy to peacetime requirements, and to the inauguration of a new training program afloat and ashore. Naval bases at Halifax and Esquimaut, B.C., are being converted to meet the needs of the new training program, and in addition there are a number of inland stations with what are described as "unequipped training facilities". In all there are nineteen Naval divisions across Canada, where it is expected that 18,000 reserve personnel will receive training. These are only a few of the many interesting facts given in the annual report issued from Naval headquarters, but they outline some of the duties which occupy Canada's growing Navy in time of peace.

Boy Receives Artificial Legs From Neighbors

BIRMINGHAM, England.—Six-year-old John Richards walked to school through a neighborhood with a heart as people raised £1,000 ($1,000) to pay for his two artificial legs.

Both John's legs were amputated after he was taken from under a bus a few yards from his home last April. His friends heard about it and got to work. They put their target high "to pay for the legs and to set aside a decent nest egg for the brave little chap."

Nine months of dances, auctions, parties and events saw the goal reached.

His mother said, "They have done more than a kindness they have made John realize he can live like the other kiddies. Not once have they pitied him; they have encouraged him and coaxed him and made him so happy."

BIG DIFFERENCE IN METHOD OF PLAY

W. L. Clarke, in the Windsor Star says: Little boys in Europe play with drums and guns and they march and parade.

Little boys in Canada and the United States play with hockey sticks and baseball bats and they have spirited battles on the rinks and diamonds.

That's the difference. Over there the children are brought up to think that sooner or later they are going to have to fight a war against someone. Over here the children are brought up with the idea that life is supposed to be pleasant.

If that war idea could be driven out of the heads of the children over there, this world might have more chance of peace.

British Papers Unable To Increase Size

LONDON.—An increase in the newspaper ration to permit British newspapers to operate on a six-page basis will be impossible before July unless the supply situation changes, the trade paper Newspaper World said.

Newspaper World said Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, had told a publisher's deputation that Canadian imports and estimated home production left a 57,000 gap between supply and consumption on a six-page basis.

No currency will be freed for further Scandinavian imports and Canadian manufacturers are not expected to be able to increase shipments, Sir Stafford said.

The trade paper said a position could arise where newspaper sales might have to be pegged again to assist an increase in sizes.

SPIRITUAL JOY
The angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. Luke 2:10.

What happiness is, the Bible alone shows clearly and certainly, and points out the way that leads to the attainment of it.—Coleridge.

Who that has felt the loss of human peace has not gained stronger desires for spiritual joy? The aspiration after heavenly good comes even before we discover what belongs to wisdom and Love.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Happiness and virtue rest upon each other; the best are not only the happiest, but the happiest are usually the best.—Butler.

The strength and the happiness of a man consists in finding out the way in which God is going, and going in that way. —Henry Ward Beecher.

Every heart that has beat strong and cheerfully has left a hopeful impulse behind it in the world, and bettered the tradition of mankind.—Stevenson.

FUNNY and OTHERWISE

The English teacher asked for a sentence using the word "beans".
"We had beans for dinner," said one boy.

"My brother likes beans," added a second.
"We are all human beans," piped a third.

Adam and Eve were naming the animals of the earth when along came a rhinoceros.

"What shall we call this one?" asked Adam.
"Let's call it a rhinoceros."

"But why a rhinoceros?"
"Well, because it looks more like a rhinoceros than anything we've named yet."

The lady of the house suspected one of her sons was paying attention to the attractive maid. Anxious to find out which one, she asked the girl: "Now, suppose you had the opportunity to go to the movies with one of my sons, which one would you choose?"

"Well," replied the girl, "it's hard to say, for I've had grand times with both of them, but for a real frolicking spree, give me the boss!"

Murphy was paying 28 shillings a week board and lodging.
One day he handily said: "Pat, I'm afraid I shall have to charge you another two shillings. You're such a big eater."

"For Heaven's sake, don't do that," said Murphy. "I'm killing myself already trying to eat 28 shillins' worth!"

A sober, sincere minister was putting everything he had into a sermon on the evils of drinking.

"And in closing," he said, "I would like to say that if I had my way, all the wine, liquor and beer would be dumped into the river." Then after a brief pause: "We will end our service by singing, 'Shall We Gather at the River?'"

Father didn't approve of a lot of things which happened these days; especially did he dislike the modern modes.

"Pah!" he snorted. "I don't know what the world's coming to. Let me tell you that your mother never resorted to catch a husband the way you girls do today."

But his daughter was ready for that one.

"No," she replied, "and look what she got!"

S.A.'s Largest City

Johannesburg, Wonder City Of World, Observes Diamond Jubilee

JOHANNESBURG, the metropolis of gold, and, as it has sometimes been called, mine city of the Empire, has just celebrated its diamond jubilee. The Governor General attended the festival, and commemorative plaques were unveiled on pedestals marking the boundaries of the city when the farm Randjeslaagte was proclaimed as Johannesburg on October 4, 1886. Johannesburg is certainly one of the wonder cities of the world. The development of the gold industry and the remarkable climate of the high-velled have combined to turn what 60 years ago was bare veld into a city with a population of approximately 600,000.

Of course it is to gold that Johannesburg owes its vast riches. No other place name since Ophe has been so inextricably associated with gold, and no other city in the world can claim a similar pre-eminence with regard to the metal. Around it lies the highest gold mining area on earth.

But Johannesburg has many other distinctions apart from gold. It is the largest city and the centre of the densest European population in South Africa; it is the financial and trading hub of the Union; the largest centre of manufacturing industry; the Union's most important distributor and marketer; the arterial centre and base of the century railways; and the Union's airway axis.

The focus of Johannesburg's riches is the wonderful gold-bearing range of low hills called the Witwatersrand. Journeying from Cape Colony during the middle of last century pioneers, shortly after crossing the Vaal River, came upon a low-lying ridge of hills which, from the silvery streams coursing down their southern slopes they gave the name of Witwatersrand, meaning Ridge of White Waters.

Tracings of ancient workings on the northern side of the Witwatersrand indicate that, to some extent, gold was mined in this district long ago, but the fields were not really rediscovered until 1884, when a pioneer, Fred Struben, struck a rich vein on a Dutch farmer's land about twelve miles west of the site of Johannesburg. This country is rich in a quartz vein, and not the real main reef. The finding of this took place a couple of years later, and a frenzied rush of speculators followed. They came on foot, by ox-wagon, by the most ramshackle vehicles imaginable and very soon a camp of miners was established.

This was the beginning of the Johannesburg we know today. It was named by Johannes Bissik, the surveyor-general of the old Transvaal Republic, who laid out the first semblance of a township, in compliment of President Kruger to General Joubert, who bore the same Christian names of Johannes. From the moment the first settler arrived, Johannesburg never looked back. Railway connections from the coast were laid a few years later, and the city was given place to corrugated iron, and, firmly and majestically Johannesburg strode into the bricks and mortar stage.

Today it can boast of some of the most magnificent buildings in the Union. It has numerous industries, besides gold-mining, among them being printing, brick-making, brewing, tobacco manufacturing and iron founding. There is a large livestock market, and the meat-chilling industry has become of increasing importance.

At the beginning of the century the city covered less than 10 square miles and the first municipal council was erected in 1903. Now the municipal boundaries extend to a radius averaging six miles from the General Post Office, and there are over 800 miles of streets and roads.

The number of Europeans and non-Europeans is now about equal, and the intensive development of the city area is seen in buildings rising to 20 stores high, and the suburban districts have also expanded astonishingly.

South, east and west lie the mines on the greatest goldfield the world has yet seen. Their situation is conspicuous because of their tall chimneys. There are a considerable number of mines within the municipal area, but they extend far along the veld for a distance of about 50 miles, and the surface of the earth has been blasted and disrupted to permit their excavation. Characteristic of this belt are the great mounds of white dust and the refuse of the crushing machines. On them vegetation will not grow, and they provide much of the material carried about during dust storms which occur from time to time.

Advice On Care Of The Fur Coat

Spare the rub to save the fur, clothing specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture advise owners of fur coats or fur-trimmed coats. Where there is a rub, there is sure to be wear which eventually will show up in worn patches on the fur. Rubs may come from handbags or books carried under the arm, from hats that are low in the back and rest on fur collars, or from heavy jewelry worn at neck or wrist.

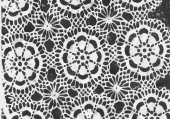

Avoid wear also by removing a fur coat—or at least loosening it—before sitting down. This will help prevent the familiar worn places often seen across shoulders or hips of fur coats. Never sit in a fur coat that is wet or even damp, the specialists advise, because this mats the fur.

Most women know that fur coats should be placed on hangers as soon as they are taken off, but not enough attention is given to the right kind of hanger. A sturdy wooden hanger with rounded, smooth ends to hold the shoulders in shape is best. The hanger should have a long hook so that the fur collar does not rub against the closet pole. Be sure the coat has plenty of space in the closet and is not jammed between other clothes.

Heat and drying also may damage fur. The specialists advise keeping a fur coat in a cool closet away from radiators. They also suggest keeping fur away from hot sunshine, and never standing in front of a heater fire or stove when wearing fur. If fur gets wet, hang the coat in a cool, well-ventilated place where it dries slowly. When dry, shake the fur gently and brush with a soft brush in the direction of the natural flow of the fur.

A silk scarf worn at the neck helps protect fur collars from soil. If they become soiled, sponge with a soft cloth moistened with a little dry cleaning fluid and brush up the fur. Use as little fluid as possible because it has a drying effect on the pelt.

Frameworked Trees Give Best Results

Frameworking is the name given to the practice of grafting or budding fruit trees in such a way that most of the original framework of the tree is retained. Only branch ends, small or poorly placed laterals, spurs and surplus larger branches are removed in the operation. The advantage of frameworking is that the trees have so little of the original top removed that the shock to the root system is reduced to that of heavy pruning and by the end of the first growing season the leaf area is very close to normal for the age of the tree.

On the other hand, the well-established methods if top-working (top grafting) call for the cutting away of most of the tree top, and it is usually at least six years before this top can be regrown to its original size. Further, a serious shock to the tree root system often results and when top-worked trees do bear fruit, the apples of the first two or three crops are oversized and "pungy". The typical of fruit grown on rapidly growing juvenile wood. Full information on frameworking is given in the bulletin "Frameworking Fruit Trees" by R. J. Hilton, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. A copy of the bulletin may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Wax Process Was Used By Egyptians

An Egyptian wax process of precision casting first known in the time of the Pharaohs was revived to help the Allies fight the Second World War and now is aiding in construction of precision parts of jet propulsion engines.

The annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy got the story of the "lost wax process" in a paper presented by N. C. MacPhee and E. Davis, who told of developments in precision casting at the Physical Metallurgy Research Laboratories.

Egyptians in the time of the Pharaohs cast perfect statuettes and other objects in bronze with the wax process, but it was lost except for a brief revival in medieval times. Later dentists and jewellers re-developed the method until it now has become "invaluable in industry and the scope of its usefulness is increasing rapidly," the paper said.

Object of the process is to make possible the mass production of accurately-dimensioned metal parts that are non-machinable, non-forgable or of an intricate shape that is expensive to machine.

Marvellous Advance

Wonder Drugs Saved More Lives Than War Explosives Killed

PROGRESS and new discoveries in the field of medicine far outweigh and are of much more significance than instruments of death such as the atom bomb, jet projectiles, flame throwers and new formulas for deadly and more destructive explosives, D. G. Jasby declared in addressing the St. James Literary Society in Montreal. "The atomic bomb killed tens of thousands," he said, "but sulphur drugs and penicillin have saved hundreds of thousands."

"New guns new tanks, new air-planes, killed thousands of soldiers but staphylococcus has saved tens of thousands from malaria and death. When thousands of soldiers might have died from the effects of bomb and shell, blood plasma saved them. When thousands of others would have died from dirt and unsanitary conditions DDT said no."

While the drugs he mentioned were among the more spectacular, Mr. Jasby added that there were dozens of others less well known to the layman which had played a notable part in the war effort and were now playing a very important part in everyday civilian life.

Outlining many of the new drugs that have been developed, he referred, as one example, to penicillin, which in the treatment of pneumonia alone had shown amazing results during the war. He pointed out that in the First Great War, fatal pneumonia cases had totalled 24 per cent, while in the recent war fatal cases had amounted to no more than half of one per cent.

Another marvellous advance, he continued, had been made with the production of staphylococcus for the treatment of malaria when the Allied supply of quinine had been largely cut off. Besides having innumerable advantages over quinine in the treatment of malaria, cost for a whole treatment was reduced during the war to six cents compared to many dollars for quinine.

Among other drugs to which he referred were Vitamin D for the treatment of arthritis and other allied diseases; benadryl for the treatment of hay fever; benzadrine for depression, neuritis, apathy and chronic fatigue, and folvite to counteract anaemia.

In addition, Mr. Jasby predicted that "we are right on the threshold of learning about atomic energy in the field of medicine."

AH, YES!

An old farm-house with meadows wide,
And sweet with clover on each side,
A bright-eyed boy, who looks from out
The door with woodbine wreathed about,
And wishes this one thought all day:
"Oh, if I could but fly away
From this dull spot, the world
To see,
How happy, happy, happy,
How happy I should be!"

Amid the city's constant din,
A man who roared the world has been,
Who 'mid the tumult and the throng,
Is thinking, thinking all day long:
"Oh, could I only tread once more
The field path to the farm-house door,
The old green meadow could I see,
How happy, happy, happy,
How happy I should be!"

Grands Advance

(Continued from Page 1) has been a feature of their past games, was not as keen as usual and while Badyk was called upon to save many hard shots too many were missing the goal by inches.

The first period went scoreless as both teams played hard, aggressive hockey with body-checks being one of the features of play.

It took Oilers only 32 seconds in the second period to open the scoring. Miller back-handing the rubber past Pow from a few feet out, Matinson and Anderson receiving assists. Grands exerted greater pressure following this set-back and a sustained attack saw Bill Mosell battle his way behind the Oilers' net where he sent a perfect pass out to Kovack who stood uncovered for the latter to score. Still maintaining pressure Grands kept firing rubber at Badyk and mid-way through the period Joyce fed Field a pass inside the Oilers' blue line for the latter to fire a low shot past Badyk. Both teams were playing smart crowd pleasing hockey and both goalies had at times to stop point blank shots.

Grands went further ahead in the third when Kwasnie skated into his opponents zone and passed out from behind the net to Antonenko who climaxed a brilliantly played game by firing the rubber into the lower corner of the net. In the dying minutes of the game Grands definitely took over control in their efforts to increase their goal advantage to take into the second game. Badyk was hard pressed to keep his goal clear and the bouncing rubber could just as easily skidded into the empty net instead of alongside it as the goalie lay helpless outside his net. Coleman: Pow; Joyce, Mosell; Fraser, Kovack, Kryczka; Roughead, Field, Pavlus, Antonenko, Cysko, Biegun, Kwasnie. Okotoks: Badyk; Cousins, Morrison; Miller, Matinson, Anderson; Finney, Kirkwood, Way, Street.

SUMMARY

First period: No goals. Penalty Joyce.

Second period: 1. Okotoks, Miller (Matinson, Anderson) :32; 2. Coleman, Kovack (Mosell) 2:32; 3. Coleman, Field (Joyce) 9:38; Penalty, Cousins.

Welcome Chinook Follows Severe Winter Storm

Roads Were Again Blocked; Bonspiel Delayed When Outside Curlers Failed to Conquer Storm.

Th Pass, along with the rest of Alberta, shivered in the latest onslaught by The Weatherman. Sub-zero weather prevailed in all areas and Coleman received its share with temperatures dipping down to 40 degrees. Fortunately Tuesday and Wednesday found temperatures moderating and on Wednesday particularly the warm Chinook wind was waging a winning battle against mountains of snow. Sunday was particularly bad as wind kept drifting the snow. The roads were badly plugged and Blaimore and Bellevue curlers remained home with the exception of the odd rink which fought its way through. Meetings scheduled for last week and postponed till Sunday were further postponed till later this week. Sunday evening the snowplow came to the rescue of the bus and aided it in to Coleman many hours late. On the railway a mishap to a railway snowplow held up No. 12 for many hours.

It is the fond hope of all that this present mild spell will continue and that the severe cold of the winter 1946-47 is now history.
